Earth's Changing Climate

Earth's climate is changing, there's no doubt. Explore the complex forces that have influenced the evolution of our climate from Earth's formation to present day and the human causes of recent climate change. From Ice Ages and vanishing glaciers to rising sea levels, loss of species and the effects of Earth's orbit, we will look at the dynamic and fragile environment of our home planet, both natural and human-caused. Join Jim O' Leary for a 3 part series on Earth's Changing Climate on Wednesday, August 15, 22 and 29 at 7:30 in the Auditorium.

Serving the Maryland Science Center (MSC) in numerous functions for more than 30 years, Mr. O'Leary is responsible for the planning, production and presentation of programs in MSC's Davis Planetarium and the Crosby Ramsey Memorial Observatory and is MSC liaison to large-format (IMAX) film producers and distributors. He has produced dozens of programs for the Davis Planetarium, seven of which have played in more than 650 planetariums worldwide.

Mr. O'Leary is a frequent lecturer on topics of Earth and space science to both adults and children, and a familiar face and voice on TV and radio, where he is often called upon to interpret space science and astronomy. Since 2001 he has hosted the weekly Skywatch radio program on the local NPR affiliate, introducing listeners to the latest space science and astronomy news.

MEET MARILYN ANIKIS

Edenwald welcomes a new resident, Marilyn Anikis, who has led a fascinating life. She has held three important jobs, as well as having five children and eight grandchildren.

Marilyn was born and spent her young life in Baltimore, attending Notre Dame High School before it became Notre Dame Prep. She has a bachelor's degree from The Ohio State University, a master's from University of Maryland, and a nursing degree from Florida State University in Fort Myers, FL.

She was a math teacher, a social worker, and a registered nurse. Her favorite career was as a psychiatric nurse at Hopkins Bayview.

Her five children were reared in Columbia, MD. She has two sons and three daughters. One son is a veterinarian in Virginia, with a large animal practice. The other son is a science department head in a high school in New Hampshire. One of her daughters is a stay at home mom who is a soccer organizer for her children and lives in Princeton, NJ. Another daughter lives in Silver Spring and is an events planner for the American Association of Gastroenterologists. The daughter who lives closest to Marilyn is a COO who is a human resources consultant. She lives in Harford County in Forest Hill. Marilyn's eight grandchildren range in age from a recent graduate of New York University to an eight year old.

Marilyn describes herself as an activist, having marched for women's equal rights in the seventies, as well as marching for other progressive causes. She says her marching days are over, but she is still very interested in politics.

She moved to Edenwald from a condo in Bel Air, and we are glad she has joined our community. Be sure to make her acquaintance. She is happy to be here, as she says everyone is so friendly.

Trips and Travel

ALL trips will depart from the Tower lobby. Please arrive at least 10 minutes prior to the departure time listed.

Activities will continue to be advertised on the bulletin board; however sign-up sheets are located in the registration book. All activities will be listed in the book at the beginning of the month, or at least two weeks prior to an event. Remember - if it's on the board it's in the book!

Museum of Industry

Unlike many of America's museums, the Baltimore Museum of Industry's collections do not document the lifestyles of the elite. You will not find fine art or furnishings. Rather, the 100,000 objects the BMI holds document the often-overlooked people in history- the workers, small business people, and citizens who built America. The BMI's collections are evocative reminders of Baltimore's great history. They explain more effectively than any textbook, how the city developed from a small trading post to a thriving, industrial center of manufacturing and commerce in a few decades.

This bus will depart at 9:45 on Thursday, August 2. The total cost of the trip is $6, which was billed to your account. The due date to cancel was Monday, July 23. This trip is rated MODERATE.

National Geographic Museum: Tomb of Christ & Titanic

Be virtually transported to Jerusalem and discover the fascinating history of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in an immersive 3-D experience unlike anything you've seen in a museum before. We will be able to virtually visit the church and learn about its storied history and enduring mysteries.

Woodbourne Creamery

Woodbourne Creamery at Rockhill Orchard is Montgomery County's first all new dairy facility in sixty years. In addition, they are the first all pasture robotic milking facility in North America. Licensed as a Grade A dairy and processing facility, they are selling Golden Guernsey Creamline milk at the market.

They have a small herd of sixty Guernsey cows and have been raising them since 2001. Guernsey milk is distinctively different from store bought milk in that it is naturally high in beta carotene so has a slightly yellow color. In 2013 they installed a Voluntary Milking System. Cows come in to be milked when they want, typically between two to three times per day. Join us Tuesday, August 21, as we learn more about the cows, creamery, VMS, grazing operations and why the cows thrive on eating grass all day long.

We will have time to shop at the market after our tour. A picnic lunch will be served under a covered pavilion at the farm. When signing up please select either a ham or a turkey sandwich. Lunch includes water, chips and an ice cream at the farm. The total cost of the trip is $15. The deadline to cancel is Wednesday, August 15. After that your account will be charged. The bus will depart at 9:15 and return by 3:00.

This trip is rated DIFFICULT. There is a tractor driven wagon ride to the creamery and uneven terrain at the farm. Wear appropriate walking shoes. We must have a minimum of 15 for this trip.

National Constitution Center

The National Constitution Center is the first and only institution in America established by Congress to “disseminate information about the United States Constitution on a nonpartisan basis in order to increase the awareness and understanding of the Constitution among the American people.” The Constitution Center brings the United States Constitution to life by hosting interactive exhibits and constitutional conversations and inspires active citizenship by celebrating the American constitutional tradition.

The museum’s main exhibit includes three signature attractions: Signer’s Hall, Constituting Liberty and the Hamilton Exhibit. The guide will be sure to give the group time to sit at various points during the tour. Once we have viewed the museum attraction, we will make our way to City Tavern for lunch.

Just as the founding fathers dined on elegant, sophisticated cuisine at City Tavern, so will you. John Adams called the City Tavern “the most genteel tavern in America,” and the restaurant, founded in 1773, has hosted celebrations since the beginning of the American Revolution. City Tavern's cuisine is made fresh daily from scratch with local ingredients. When signing up for this trip please make your lunch selection:

UPCOMING EVENTS

Thomas Pandolfi

We are pleased to welcome back Thomas Pandolfi on Wednesday, August 1 at 7:30 in the auditorium.

The young American pianist Thomas Pandolfi is an exciting virtuoso who, with each passing season, is becoming more and more sought after by audiences worldwide, and showered with superlatives by critics for his passionate artistry and amazing technique. His orchestral appearances often feature not only the beloved masterpiece concerti by Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninov and Liszt, but also the equally brilliant ones by Paderewski, Rubinstein and Moszkowski. Additionally, in the "Pops" genre, Thomas is considered a leading interpreter of the works of George Gershwin.

A graduate of The Juilliard School, Pandolfi earned both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees as a scholarship student. He is the father of two beautiful children, and resides in Washington, DC.

The Alexandria Klezmet

Klezmer is Eastern-European Jewish folk music, the kind of music that would have been heard at weddings and other types of village celebrations in the Old Country a century ago. But it gets even more interesting than that, because it's also what happened to this music when over two and a half million Jews traveled across the Atlantic Ocean at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th centuries and settled in the New World, primarily in the New York metropolitan area, where those Old World sounds began to mix with the sounds of the New -- early jazz, dixieland, Tin Pan Alley, and the like. The result is a quintessentially American form of music, reflective of the American immigrant "melting pot" experience.

We are pleased to welcome The Alexandria Klezmet Thursday, August 2 at 7:30 in the Auditorium.

Wine Tasting

First Friday of the month Wine Tasting will be held on Friday, August 3 at 4:30 outside the auditorium.

Readers have described this book as "Vivid history of the glittering Chicago World's Fair and its dark side.....Gripping drama, captured with a reporter's nose for a good story and a novelist's flair for telling it....An irresistible page-turner that reads like the most compelling sleep-defying fiction." You don't want to miss this discussion group!

Christiana Drapkin

Jazz vocalist Christiana Drapkin has been performing for over twenty years. She is noted for her lyrical and highly personal delivery of ballads and for her abandoned yet artful scat improvisations. Christiana's singing is deeply immersed in the rich traditions of Billie Holiday, Ella Fitzgerald and Carmen McRae, as well as in the vocalese fireworks of Anita O'Day, Annie Ross and Eddie Jefferson.

Christiana came to the US as a Fulbright exchange student from Germany, studying in New Orleans where she got her first immediate exposure to Jazz. Moving to New York provided her with her ideal artistic home, where she became part of a vibrant local jazz scene. She studied jazz with pianist Charles Sibirsky and vocal coach Barbara Feller. Christiana has drawn a lot of inspiration and support from workshops with Sheila Jordan, Mark Murphy, and, more recently, Tierney Sutton.

Christiana will be joining us on Wednesday, August 8 at 7:30 in the auditorium.

The first collaboration of famed partners Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, Oklahoma set the American Musical Theater standard. Oklahoma debuted on Broadway in March 1943 (75 years ago), the musical was a perfect reprieve for audiences immersed in the day to day anxieties of the world.

We will be showing the 1955 movie version with Shirley Jones and Gordon MacRae. The Running time is 2 hours and 25 minutes.

Middle River Concert Band

The Middle River Concert Band was formed in 1956 as a result of several company bands folding when the businesses they represented decided against supporting the musicians.

Jay Daniels

Please welcome Jay Daniels on Thursday, August 16 at 7:30 pm in the Auditorium.

What makes certain songs memorable? What allows them to stand the test of time? For pianist and vocalist Jay Daniels, the answer is simple. These songs possess a rich combination of melody and lyrics, unsurpassed by many modern compositions. These are the songs you love, popularized by Frank Sinatra, Nat King Cole, Patsy Cline, and others. At each performance, Jay not only brings a fresh interpretation of these classics, but he makes a lasting impression on his audience. For Jay, it's not merely an opportunity to perform. For Jay, it is an opportunity to share his gift of music.

Robert Statham

“The soloist played with ease and self-confidence one of the most difficult pieces ever written for piano. His controlled yet stirring key work created a thrill of expectation with each new swell of crescendo decrescendo pairings.” That’s what The Washington Post said after Robert Statham’s performance of the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 3.

Robert Statham has been an award-winning artist since he first began performing. He won first place awards in the District and Regional Finals of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity Talent Competition, the Frederic Chopin Award for gifted young pianists, a Mayoral Citation in Baltimore, and the Governor’s Citation for Piano Performance-Morgan State College, among others. He has studied at Hampton University, Peabody Conservatory, and the Rome School at Catholic University. His repertoire is drawn mostly from the Romantic era of classical music. In addition, Statham delivers a fine program celebrating the work of African-American composers.

Our new Musician in Residence is Jamie Gallupe, a baroque cellist, viola da gamba player, and soprano who specializes in the budding field of historically informed performance practice. Like many who are drawn to historical performance, Jamie's musical studies began with traditional cello pedagogy. However, her taste for the more eclectic things in life took her to perform in a variety of nontraditional venues. This immersion in diverse styles and performance practices eventually led her to find her passion in early music. Teaching experience includes over seven years teaching cello and music as well as over eight years teaching martial arts and a new experience as a yoga instructor.

Let's welcome Jamie on Friday, August 24 at 1:30 for an afternoon Meet and Greet. Jamie will also give us a preview musical interlude.

From the Health Suite

Vial of Life completion reminder

In February of this year, the medical suite put blank vial of life forms in all of the independent living mailboxes for annual updates. If you have not updated or completed your vial of life form yet for this year, this is a reminder to please do so and bring the completed/updated form to the medical suite. There are blank copies of the vial of life forms available right outside the medical suite. The completion of the vial of life form ensures that if you have a medical emergency at Edenwald, our staff has the most up to date information regarding your medical information.

Healthcare Presentation

We, the independent residents of Edenwald, have an opportunity to inform ourselves of health care services available at Edenwald. The initiative originated with the residents. The health services staff has responded by volunteering their time and energy to help us to become familiar with the services provided.

On Monday, August 13 at 10:30 in the board room, the Health Suite information will be given by Resident Counselor Meghan Curtis and Emily Shultz, Nurse Practitioner. Services provided in Stroh Hall will be presented in September. This small setting ensures the most effective way for us to learn and ask questions.

Flowerbox Gardens

The plants continue to thrive, offering a stunning array of vivid colors and textures. If you have not visited the Flowerbox gardens recently, now is the time to see the 26 flower boxes, the round planters, the water garden complete with water lilies and our fountain and surrounding flower bed, all at their peak of perfection.

Last month the committee hosted its annual awards dinner, which offered gardeners, committee members and their spouses an opportunity to socialize and enjoy an excellent dinner served buffet-style under the direction of Janet Staggs, Edenwald's special functions manager. Thank you, Janet and staff, for a job well done.

Highlight of the evening, after opening remarks by Frank Locke, was the presentation of awards for the winning gardeners, as judged earlier by Carrie Engle and associate of Valley View Farms.
